--SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION

According to the invention, a coating is carried out with a chocolate composition measured out with high gravimetric precision, and a 100% natural preparation of vegetable additives in an alcohol base is atomized. The combination of the alcohol-based preparation with the coating layer causes a surface reaction which, with the evaporation of the alcohol, forms a glossy to semi-glossy and slightly resistant structure. The range for the application of the coating is 29 - 39°C; the finished product is not greasy to the touch; there is a substantially improved preservation of its appearance and shelf life.
